Why you'll like it

This four-bedroom end of terrace house is for sale in a cul-de-sac location in Keighley, offering spacious accommodation that needs renovation.

On the ground floor, there are two reception rooms. The main reception room is open-plan yet retains a sense of separation, with large windows providing a garden view and direct access to the outside. The second reception room functions well as a dining room, also enjoying views over the garden. The open-plan kitchen includes space for dining and benefits from natural light. A downstairs WC adds convenience.

Upstairs, there are three double bedrooms and one single bedroom, providing flexibility for sleeping, work or hobby space. The bathroom requires modernisation. Externally, the property features a large garden, along with parking and a single garage.

The house is situated in Keighley with nearby schools and local amenities accessible in the surrounding area. Keighley town centre offers supermarkets, shops and everyday services, while local parks and green spaces around the Aire Valley provide opportunities for walking and recreation.

Keighley railway station connects to Leeds and Bradford, with typical journey times of around 35–45 minutes to Leeds and around 30–40 minutes to Bradford Forster Square, providing commuting and leisure options. Local bus services operate between Keighley and surrounding towns in the Aire and Worth valleys.

The property is offered for sale with no onward chain, and the combination of four bedrooms, large garden, parking and garage may appeal to families looking to carry out renovation and updating to their own specifications.
