INTERESTING FACTS- Tarboc Village was named after a brook and settled on it's name in its current form in the late seventeenth century. The manor of 'Tarboc' (as it was previously known) was held by the Saxon Thane, Dot. Tarboc, along with 'Hitune' (Huyton) was granted to Henry II in 1150 before it was given to the Lathom family. Towards the end of the twelfth century, the two were split between different branches of the family with Tarbock being assigned to Henry de Lathom, his son Richard was the first to adopt the name 'de Torbock'
